
Bayonne Board of Education Welcomes New Trustee

Mayor Mark A. Smith announced that he has named Agnes I. Rymer, Esq. as a new trustee to the Bayonne Board of Education. She will replace Louis P. Healey, CPA. Agnes Rymer received her Bachelor of Arts Degree in Education and Political Science from Rutgers University, Livingston College, New Brunswick, New Jersey. She received a Juris Doctor degree with highest honors from the Rutgers University School of Law in Newark, New Jersey.

Since 2002, she has been a partner and pro bono coordinator for Saiber, Schlesinger, Satz and Goldstein, LLC Law Firm. Agnes Rymer practices in the areas which include complex commercial litigation, health and hospital law, antitrust, administrative and school law. She is actively involved in a multitude of professional and community activities listed as follows: member of the Board of Trustee of the Friends of 13 (supporting Public Television), 2009-present, added to the Statewide Poster of Mediators for Civil, General Equity and Probate Matters and has mediated approximately 90 cases for the Supreme Court, member of Program Committee, Hudson County Inn of Court, board member and board chair for F.A.I.T.H. Services in Hudson County, member of the audit committee of Bon Secours/Canterbury Health System in Hudson County and advisory committee to the Health Law and Policy Program, Seton Hall University School of Law, Chair, Vice-Chair and member of the Newark Business and Community Council, Past Volunteer, Director and Vice President for Finance and Administration of the National Hemophilia Foundation, New York, N.Y., Past Chair and Vice-Chair of the N.J. Law Firm Group, appointed by the Federal District Court Judge and served as a Special Master in a civil rights case.

Agnes Rymer was named NJ Super Lawyer in 2006, 2007, 2008, and 2009; and was named NJ Super Lawyer Corporate Counsel Edition 2008.

“On behalf of the entire Bayonne Board of Education, I welcome and thank our new board trustee, Agnes I. Rymer, Esq. for volunteering her time and for her commitment and expertise to the students, staff, parents, and the entire Bayonne community,” states Dr. Patricia L. McGeehan, Superintendent of Schools.
